

A table that is out of the ordinary in every respect. Free of edges and corners, this frameless new concept presents itself in a straightforward design with numerous distinctions.

Sturdy, polished stainless steel balls embody in a characteristic way the round stylistic elements and, in their three-dimensionality, they inversely reflect the depth of the room.

Delicately dimensioned table legs made of high-strength carbon run in the shape of a star to the central point of contact and, with playful effortlessness, they emphasize the individuality of the new concept*

Like the fingers of a hand, they grip with the ends of their balls the glass plate from three sides – high functionality harmonizes congenially with the minimalistic basic principle of the entire object.

At the same time, with this solution, the table can be extended by a larger glass level both fast and easily. Parallel to that, a visible and protected shelf area is formed to be used for spectacles or remote controls for example.

An ensemble of carbon, stainless steel and glass – also predestined for the sophisticated garden ambience and in this new interpretation, also available as a higher and more elegant side table with a glass top or as an extraordinary bar table with three glass levels.

carbony & irony unites style and functionality with sophistication and sets new tones in the segment of exclusive coffee tables.
